

EDAM DAY 2024 - AGENDA

Friday 13.09.2024, from 12:00 to 18:00

EPFL Neuchâtel Associated Campus, Rue de la Maladière 71, 2000 Neuchâtel

Auditorium MC A1 272 and main hall

---

Start – End

- |               |                                                                                                                                                                                      |
|---------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 12:00 – 13:00 | Standing lunch at main hall                                                                                                                                                   |
| 13:00 – 13:15 | Introduction / OpeningProf. Roland Logé, Head of LMTM (EPFL-IMX)                                                                                                          |
| 13:15 – 14:00 | Thesis in 180 secondsAll PhD students beyond the candidacy exam                                                                                                           |
| 14:00 – 14:20 | Professional recruiter presentation:Mrs Eglantine Jamet, Founding Partner of Artemia Executive                                                                            |
| 14:20 – 14:30 | Break                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 14:30 – 14:50 | Manufacturing activities at PSI:Dr. Steven Van Petegem, Laboratory for Condensed Matter                                                                                   |
| 14:50 – 15:10 | Industry Guest:Dr. Vahid Fakhfour Head of R&I Automation & Process at Richemont                                                                                           |
| 15:10 – 15:30 | Industry Guest:Dr. Yves Moser R&D Director at MPS Micro Precision Systems AG                                                                                              |
| 15:30 – 16:15 | Open discussion with Alumni:Presentation of their fields of activity,Tips and hints about employment market,How to prepare the next steps, which field to target. |
| 16:15 – 17:30 | Posters and aperitif at main hall                                                                                                                                             |
| 17:30 – 18:00 | Award for best poster and end of event                                                                                                                                        |