The prevalence of micro-sensor enabled wearable devices, combined with the increasing accuracy of these sensors is blurring the lines between consumer devices and medical technology. What potential does this plethora of data hold for users, the businesses that have access to it, and humanity as a whole?

Exploring the business implications of HealthTech devices and the data they generate.

2 MAY 2019 @ EPFL Rolex Center

Event starts 18h
Register: emba.epfl.ch/event/innovationleaders19