

Prof. Chiara SAFFIRIO
Universität Basel

The Boltzmann equation, old and new.

A major question in mathematical physics concerns the rigorous derivation of effective macroscopic equations from the laws of classical or quantum mechanics. In particular the Boltzmann equation is the most studied prototype of kinetic equations.

In this talk we will review the most relevant results on the derivation of the Boltzmann equation and give some outlooks.